Roland Fisher – Disc Jockey, Entertainer, Sound Technician

Roland has been an Entertainer in Southern California since 1980, when he played professionally for many groups as a studio musician. He later toured Europe and Asia with many recording groups. He has done stand-up comedy in clubs throughout Southern California and Las Vegas, and has collaborated with many artists and producers to promote and develop several recording groups, shows and corporate events.

He first started his Disc Jockey career in 1988 when a local San Diego company requested his unique experiences in music and motivational entertainment style to head up a majority of their major accounts. These included corporate and private events, as well as clubs, karaoke and video jockey services. He has been the Disc Jockey Entertainer for many weddings, parties, picnics and corporate events.

His talents have allowed him to work exclusively with the La Valencia Hotel in La Jolla, California, The Cancer Society, La Trinaca Group, The Disneyland Hotel, as well as many other service clubs. He was the director for the music format for atombomb.com, bringing international recognition for the mixture of music and film for performers both domestic and international. He is currently sought after for many musical groups for everything from filling in, to studio work.

He resides in Murrieta, California with his wife of 16 years, and four children, all of who are accomplished musicians. They have two musical CD products to their credit to date, with future plans to perform on the East Coast and Europe, and a recording date in Russia with the Russian National Symphony.
